Dear Professor Bienen:

I want to express to you my appreciation of your attendance at the discussion/dinner on Nigeria on Thursday, 24 April 1980, and my deep regret that critical events occurring at the time prevented me from sharing the evening with you. I am told that the discussion was lively and informative. I'm sorry I missed it.

I also understand that your meetings in [redacted] on Friday were very helpful to [redacted] and the analysts who attended with him. For that I am also grateful to you and your colleague.

Dear Jerry:

I am most grateful to you for coming to the Agency on Thursday night last to discuss Nigeria and most regretful that the evening's events elsewhere prevented me from sharing the discussion with you. I am told that you all had at it with vigor and that the results were informative and stimulating. That is of course what I look for from these evening discussions. I am very sorry I had to miss it.

Yours,

 STANSFIELD TURNER
